Dear Andrew,

We are not sure if this is the correct way to put over our worries over the forthcoming plans to put two huge shipping containers at the bottom of our property.

Our objections have been recorded and posted, however we are extremely concerned that as our property and next door are the only ones effected by this proposal and not all considerations of the impact that have or won't be investigated as its a not a major project.

We have looked at the containers which are situated in the rugby carpark at the moment, not only are they massive but also very ugly to look at, is there any way that this gets considered before any decision is made? I think anybody that sees what they look like would agree with us.

Looking at the proposed plans, it looks like they will block our back gate and be to close to rear fence, I'm sure there are more options available to site them where they would not be a nuisance to anyone, hopefully you can help us before this gets the ok.

Thank you for any help on this,

Yours faithfully,

Mr.K. Balster.
