Hi Simon

See Gails email below – unless there is an increase in building footprint that actually over sails/built over the public footway here I think that a stopping up order would not be required for such a minor change as set out below

Thanks

Hi Gail/Becky

Could you advise whether a stopping up would be required for this minor change in replacement of existing posts – see currently they are round – proposal includes squaring these off so technically a very minor encroachment on public highway would result (see Simons email and image below).
