Zac/Juan,

I have reviewed the email from Kerry and have the following comments which I hope will inform your decision.

The report referenced which has been formed to advise the drainage strategy for Church Lane Climping states that the superficial geology of the western portion of this site (the area closer to Mistletoe Farm) is river terrace deposits, formed of sand silt and clay and as a result "it is unlikely that this area is suitable for infiltration". This report therefore in fact supports my query as to whether infiltration is feasible in this location or not.

I have completed a further review of British Geological Survey mapping, which indicates that Mistletoe farm is located in an area with a superficial geology of River terrace deposits. Site specific infiltration testing is the only way to determine the exact make-up of the river terrace deposits and if there is a high enough percentage of sand to support infiltration.

My concerns regarding infiltration potential are also based on how high ground water may sit, in impermeable soils a perched ground water can commonly be found at less than a meters depth. If ground water was found to be at less than 0.8m depth on site soakaways may become unviable; and if groundwater is found to be less than 0.5m depth on site this would preclude the use of permeable paving.

If infiltration is not viable the next method for surface water disposal (discharge of attenuated flows to watercourse) of the sustainable drainage hierarchy would have to be examined. A culverted watercourse does exist along Horsemere Green Lane. However, the density of the site and the prevalence of trees means that getting a suitably sized tank (to restrict flows to greenfield rate) may not be possible. Attenuation tanks must be located outside of root protection areas and root potential areas.

I note that it is stated that roads will be permeable. However, it must still be demonstrated that the underlying strata can infiltrate this water. If it is found that infiltration is not viable road water would also have to be attenuated and discharged. The consequence of providing a permeable surface with no means of outflow would result in water backing up within the road base and then eventually spilling out and potentially going on to the highway or surrounding land. It should be noted that it is an offence to flood a highway and development should not increase flood risk elsewhere.

To summarise, no evidence has been submitted to demonstrate that there is adequate capacity on site for surface water drainage and that the development will not increase flood risk. As the reserved matters is agreeing the layout I consider it to be fundamental to the application.

Kind Regards,

Laura Gibbons, MEng, GMICE

Dear Juan,

We have now received an email from Zac advising that the next availability to meet is 2nd July.

We have further reviewed the position and in addition to the legal opinion, previously provided, we would also like to draw your attention to the recent WSCC consultation comments on the nearby site at Climping and page 4 of the attached SW Report for the 300 unit site to the south, from the UK Soil Observatory (UKSO) which confirms that the ground make up in the area is Sand to Loam (very permeable). In addition we would like to highlight that the proposed access road and driveways are permeable, therefore the only surface water being taken to soakaways will be from the two properties.

Outline permission has been granted for the 2no. dwellings on the site and the permission included the pre-commencement condition requiring winter monitoring. The applicant accepts the pre-commencement condition and agrees that it should be attached to the reserved matters decision notice. We do not agree that the request for summer infiltration testing is reasonable or necessary or consistent with the Council's approach to other similar applications. The Council's drainage officer has not provided any evidence to justify the request and indeed had this been a concern it should have been raised as part of the outline application, as stated in the legal opinion.

We have also seen the recently published Surface Water Drainage Proposal Checklist which seems to provide guidance on the information required to either avoid the imposition of pre-commencement conditions or to discharge pre-commencement conditions. It does not refer to interim data such as summer infiltration testing as part of the application process, as being requested for the reserved matters application for Mistletoe Farm.

On reflection, we no longer see any benefit in meeting with you and Laura on the above application because it seems clear to us, based on the legal opinion and above information, that there is no reason why the reserved matters application should not be approved with the inclusion of the standard pre-commencement condition requiring winter monitoring.

Whilst you suggest there may be an impasse between our view and the view of the Council's Drainage Officer isn't it the role of the Planning Officers to take a balanced approach in considering the information provided in formulating a recommendation.

We look forward to hearing from you on the above in order that we can avoid the need for a meeting.

Kind regards,
Kerry

Dear Kerry

Thanks for your email. I have asked Zac Denton to arrange a conveniently dated meeting with you at our offices so we can discuss this impasse. I am hoping that by having Laura present we can set out our drainage position. It may be that we can then move forward to an agreed determination of this application.

Can you please contact Zac with those you wish to attend on your side and some dates/times so he can make arrangements.

Dear Juan,

Further to my last email our client has provided us with the attached legal opinion relating to drainage matters on application CM/13/19/RES.

Please note that generally we are very supportive of Laura Gibbons' desire to address historic shortfalls on drainage matters within Arun and Chichester. However, any new approach to drainage must be consistent, reasonable and lawful. With regard to application CM/13/19/RES the request for summer infiltration testing, only then to further apply a blanket winter infiltration testing condition is illogical, unreasonable, and as the attached now confirms entirely unlawful. Please appreciate that our client has numerous applications under consideration in both Chichester and Arun District's and Laura Gibbons' conduct here, unless addressed, is likely to set a precedent moving forward.

Therefore, on the basis we have agreed to accept a winter infiltration testing condition (despite the attached demonstrating that the blanket application of such is likely to be unlawful) it is our hope that Laura Gibbons will remove her current objection to CM/13/19/RES, and the application can be granted without further delay.

We look forward to hearing from you.

Kerry

Dear Juan,

Thank you for coming back to me. I have been able to speak with Laura Gibbons and she has explained that she is requesting infiltration testing to demonstrate that the site is capable of infiltration to support soakaways but that she will continue to require the winter monitoring to fully inform the design of the drainage system.

Whilst we are concerned that there is a lack of consistency with the Council's approach to requesting drainage information and are of the opinion that the imposition of the pre-commencement winter monitoring conditions would provide the Council with sufficient control, the applicant has agreed to have the infiltration testing done and data submitted to accompany the application. On that basis we would request that we agree a further extension of time.

We would also like to request a meeting with Laura Gibbons and Neil Crowther to discuss the Council's approach to infiltration testing and winter monitoring as part of the application process, in order to better understand the justification for requiring infiltration testing at the application stage, when the detailed drainage system is controlled by standard pre-commencement conditions.

We will report back on timeframe for the infiltration data next week.

Best regards,
Kerry

Dear Kerry

The application is proposed to be refused on drainage grounds. I am happy to hold off from taking the report further to our Group Head Neil Crowther for agreement if you first want to discuss the reasons given with our drainage engineer Laura Gibbons. The reason for refusal recommended is:

'Inadequate information has been submitted to demonstrate that the site can be sufficiently drained in accordance with Q SP1 of the Arun Local Plan and Section 14 of the National Planning Policy Framework. As the application is to approve the layout of the site there is a risk that the proposals would not be able to be implemented.'

Dear Jaun and Zac,

I have called and left voice messages for you both. I would be grateful if you could come back to us to confirm the Officer's recommendation on the above application as we are currently holding off the applicant from instructing Counsel. As explained in our email dated 24 May we agree with the Council's drainage engineer that the winter monitoring can be required by condition and we note that the Council's drainage engineer has taken this approach on the adjacent site CM/21/19/L where she recognises that evidence that the proposals will not increase flood risk is not always possible prior to determination and states in her consultation response dated 20th May that 'if you are minded to approve the application please apply the following conditions: PCENG D2, PCENG D3 and PCENG D4'. On the basis that this site is immediately adjacent to Mistletoe Farm we are therefore of the opinion that the reserved matters application CM/13/19/RES can be dealt with in the same way. The applicant is prepared to provide a legal opinion to support this approach however we consider that this should not be necessary on the grounds that the standard pre-commencement conditions meet the six tests for conditions.

We also note that the late consultation comments from Sue Howell dated 30th May. We understand that the detailed landscape and planting information can be required by a standard landscape/planting condition (examples below) in the usual way.

- 1. No development shall take place unless and until there has been submitted to and approved by the Local Planning Authority a scheme of landscaping, which shall include a planting plan and schedule of plants noting species, plant sizes and proposed numbers/densities. In addition, all existing trees and hedgerows on the land shall be indicated including details of any to be retained, together with measures for their protection in the course of development. The scheme shall include seeding with a Native British Wildflower Flora mix appropriate to the soil and climate of the site and shall make particular provision for the conservation and enhancement of biodiversity on the application site. The scheme shall be designed to achieve levels of shelter/windbreak, shade and drought resistance to accord with the expected climate changes during the design life of the development.*

Reason: In the interests of amenity and of the environment of the development and to comply with the Natural Environment and Rural Communities Act 2006.

- 2. All planting, seeding or turfing comprised in the approved details of landscaping shall be carried out in the first planting and seeding seasons following the occupation of the buildings or the completion of the development, whichever is the sooner, and any trees or plants which within a period of 5 years from the completion of the development die, are removed or become seriously damaged or diseased shall be replaced in the next planting season with others of similar size and species, unless the District Planning Authority gives written consent to any variation.*

Reason: In the interests of amenity and of the environment of the development.

We would appreciate it if you could come back to us on the above queries and to confirm the Officer's recommendation at your earliest opportunity, in order that we can update the applicant.

Best regards,
Kerry

Dear Zac,

We have further reviewed the scheme with our client and senior colleagues and we are of the opinion that this matter can be suitably dealt with by the imposition of the standard drainage condition which is an accepted method of ensuring the development can be satisfactorily drained by a sufficient surface water drainage system, particularly as this is typically a pre-commencement condition prohibiting the commencement of works until this condition is discharged.

We are advised by the project drainage engineer that the suggested percolation testing at this time would not in itself be adequate to determine the size of the required soakaways and cannot therefore understand why this is being required now and then again within the winter monitoring period. To require this information prior to determination is unreasonable and unnecessary as it would not fulfil any technical purpose and a condition for further testing would still be required.

However we agree with the Council's drainage engineer that the winter monitoring can be required by condition and we note that the Council's drainage engineer has taken this approach on the adjacent site CM/21/19/L where she recognises that evidence that the proposals will not increase flood risk is not always possible prior to determination and states in her consultation response dated 20th May (copy attached) that 'if you are minded to approve the application please apply the following conditions: PCENG D2, PCENG D3 and PCENG D4'. The applicant is prepared to provide a legal opinion to support this approach however we consider that this should not be necessary on the grounds that the standard pre-commencement conditions meet the six tests for conditions.

We take comfort in your confirmation that in all other respects the Council has adequate information in order to determine the application and would ask you to respond on this one remaining technical query prior to determination.

Dear Natalie,

Thank you for your email, I am sorry that you are disappointed.

I have spoken with our drainage engineer, and the advice is following is in line with these discussions. Please note that if the drainage information is not supplied, then it is likely that we will be recommending refusal, as you have not demonstrated that there is adequate room for on-site surface water drainage. Without this information, it is our opinion that the Council would not be approving the application, as there is potential that the scheme cannot be implemented.

A drainage engineer cannot confirm the size of the soakaways required without the infiltration results. The soil in the area is likely to be cohesive and have low permeability, it could be that in this instance, the soil is so cohesive that infiltration is not achievable.

In other aspects, it is considered that as it currently appears, the Council has adequate information to determine the application.

Please can you advise as to whether you will be providing the information within a week.

Dear Zac,

We have now had a chance to review your latest email and have conferred with the applicant and their drainage engineer. We will respond to your points in turn below.

- Drainage, Our drainage engineer has confirmed that the scheme of drainage provided showing the position of soakaways can be achieved within the site area, and is not dependant on infiltration testing. Whilst infiltration testing will determine the size and depth of the soakaways our drainage engineer confirms that the soakaways CAN be accommodated within the site. We consider this is sufficient information to support the application and that the required winter monitoring and infiltration tests can be controlled by condition in the standard way, as was the case with the outline permission, as this is considered necessary and relevant to planning and the development proposed. As such the requested infiltration information is not required prior to determination. In any event we are outside of the winter monitoring period and any testing done now would be incomplete and require the drainage and winter monitoring condition to be applied. Therefore we do not consider it reasonable or justified to provide any further drainage information at this stage.
- Scale of development, To clarify the reserved matters application has been modelled on the layout and drawings provided at outline stage. Careful consideration has been given to the design of plot 2 in relation to existing neighbouring properties. Plot 2 is separated from the property to the west on Wooldridge Walk by 12 metres which represents an acceptable side-to-side relationship between properties. Plot 2 is designed with a hipped roof and low eaves, eaves height 3.4m, in order to reduce mass and bulk, with a low overall ridge height of 7m. Plot 2 is orientated with its main elevations facing north/south in order that there are no principle windows facing the adjacent neighbouring properties and as such no detrimental impact on neighbour amenities.
- Plot 1 has been designed to reflect the existing property at Mistletoe Farm, and its relationship between Mistletoe Farm to the west and Scyld to the east. The proposed dwelling size and form has been modelled on existing built form fronting Horsemere Green Lane and as such the additional dwelling to the road frontage would not appear out of place. The separation distance between Plot 1 and Scyld, across the approved access to serve Plot 2 and with dense tree screening to the site boundaries, is substantial. The verdant nature of the site is such that the properties to the road frontage are not read together within the street scene, however Plot 1 has been designed to sit comfortably next to its closest neighbour, Mistletoe Farm. I would suggest this could have been assessed when you visited Mistletoe Farm and as street scene drawings are not a requirement we will not be providing further drawings at this time

We would like to express how frustrating this process has been with your email confirming your support for the application on 13th February only to be advised that your team leader raised issues regarding ecology and access. These issues were addressed and new drawings provided only for you to request further drainage information in April and now further elevational drawings in May. We consider this application is well supported and the drawings clearly legible in order for the proposals to be fully assessed. As such we await your comments in due course.

Kind regards,
Natalie

Dear Natalie,

Thank you for the attached information, I have run it past the Drainage Engineer, who stated:

"As discussed there is inadequate information provided to demonstrate that the site can be drained. To support the proposed locations of soakaways I require infiltration testing results to be submitted. As stated previously even if infiltration testing is completed now this will at least indicate if infiltration is feasible and soakaways provisionally sized. Further drainage design can then be conditioned to enable winter testing and detailed design to be completed."

Additionally, would you be able to provide an elevation showing the relationship between the bungalows on Wooldridge Walk and Plot 2 of the development and another showing Plot 1 (and the neighbouring dwelling), from Horsemere Green Lane?

I have concerns about the scale of the proposals and their relationship with surrounding dwellings, and I feel the plans may give opportunity to assess these concerns further.

Dear Zac,

Just a note that the applicant has instructed a drainage engineer to address the points raised by the Council's Drainage consultant, who do not have any concerns that a suitable scheme for surface water drainage can be achieved. We will have their comments to you shortly.

Kind regards,
Natalie

Dear Natalie,

Thank you for your email and the plan.

The Council's Drainage Engineers would not be happy with the imposition of your suggested condition.

Before agreeing a layout, it needs to be established that surface water drainage is achievable. The Engineers are currently unconvinced that the layout provides sufficient space for surface water drainage.

Please do not hesitate to contact me with any further enquires.

Kind regards,

Zac

Dear Zac,

Please find attached revised drawing SK09 Rev 02 to replace the previous SK09 Rev 01, increasing the garage to plot 2 to 6m x 6m internally as requested by WSCC Highways.

In terms of my email of Friday I would be grateful if you could confirm the Council's position in terms of the suggested drainage condition.

Kind regards,
Natalie
