Dear Sir

I attended a meeting in the Climping Church Hall yesterday evening regarding the Mulgrave's proposal to build 300 new homes. I cannot believe any one could think of doing this while the roads become more and more congested. I have been trying to sell my Listed house for months now and the reason most people give for not buying is the problem at certain times with traffic building up, often from the level crossing.

I know young people want new homes, but if they can't get to work easily, and there are no schools available, they will not be grateful to houses with no infa structure built in.

Yours faithfully
