Dear Anita,

In relation to the above, the applicant should note that the proposals will require a new licence to be issued under the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act, 1960. The existing camping licence will not be valid for the proposed use. Licences are issued with conditions that are applicable to issues such as site layout and safety, noise, lighting, facilities, etc..

Every tent shall be placed at a minimum distance of three metres apart from any other tent, with a minimum distance of one metre between the guy ropes of one tent from the guy ropes of another. Every caravan shall be stationed a minimum of six metres from another caravan. No caravan or combustible structure shall be positioned within three metres of the site boundary. Providing that the number of proposed pitches is capable of adhering to this spacing requirement, EH has no comments regarding this application.

Many thanks,

Kate.
