29th November 2017

Dear Mr James Carter

Development:

We own the industrial unit G15 and have recently purchased the neighbouring industrial - unit G14. We would like to join these two sites together to create one industrial unit for our own continued use. To do this we would like to:

1. Join the 2 units by creating one doorway in the existing (non structural) block partition wall AND removal of a complete section of the partitioning block wall - floor to ceiling within steel structural framework. New doorway will be in reception area immediately as you enter Unit G15.
2. Change the front facade of Unit G14 by replacing the existing roller door with a blue roller door - colour to match Unit G15 doors and windows AND replace the existing front entry door with a window to match Unit G15 existing windows.
3. Replace the existing roller door in Unit G15 with a window to match existing Unit G15 windows.
4. Create a clean workshop area within Unit G14.
5. Join the office areas at the back of Unit G14 and Unit G15 (facilitated by removal of the section of partitioning block wall).
6. Create a reception area as you enter Unit G15 by constructing a stud wall to enclose the area.
7. Extend the existing clean workshop area in Unit G15 into the existing storage area.
