Thank you.
Oh, ... and it is 'Neathercoat'.

Dear Mr Heathcote,

I can advise that additional Notices will be posted in Horsemere Green Lane this week and the advertising date will be amended accordingly.

Dear Ms Gardner,

Can we expect an extension to the deadline and yellow notices posted locally along Horsemere Green Lane, given that local people have not been properly informed of this planning application, or must I make my complain official?

Dear Ms Gardner,

Thank you again for your reply, which contradicts your colleague James who says that we should receive letters by post (I have been discussing CM/64/19/PL with him).

Clearly local residents are not being properly informed and you cannot rely on everyone having access to the Internet. It is also wholly insufficient to post a few notices close by the proposed site and completely ignore the whole of Horsemere Green Lane and the local residents who probably have no idea that a concrete mixing plan is about to be built in their neighbourhood.

I would like to shout FOUL on this one and have the 'comments by' date extended and local people properly informed. We need notices along Horsemere Green Lane and in the entrance to all the roads off it, as this affects us all. I'm sorry to have to say that on this one your planning department just isn't doing it's job properly and keeping local people informed (I once posted yellow notices myself, when your department failed to do so on that occasion also, but I don't have the time now I'm afraid and I'm struggling with an injury to walk).

With regards

Dear Mr Neathercote,

This Local Planning Authority does not notify neighbours in writing of planning applications. Instead all applications are published on the weekly list, which is printed in West Sussex Gazette and are available to view on the planning section of the Council's website.

Yellow site notices for this application were posted on 19-12-2019 on a telegraph pole to the front of the site, on a road sign opposite the prison and on the entrance sign to the industrial estate.

Dear Ms Gardner,

Were letters supposed to have been sent out to local residents advising them of this proposed development, as I am not aware of anyone local here having received one? Furthermore, I have not seen yellow notices posted either? Have they been?
