Lynda Lundie....Atherington Farm, Climping Street

I raise the following objections to this application as follows

There was unlawful demolition of the original building which was the old school house despite a member of the Parish Council talking at the first sign of demolition to the builder

Pool house and Garage.....there is no garage, this is now an independant residential building with kitchen bathroom and bedroom

Barn....had consent to be an office, but is now an independant residential building with kitchen, bathroom and bedroom

Both clearly unlawful development

The newbuild house does not sit comfortably with the vernacular style of the rest of Climping Street.....facing East are an increased number of dormer windows which were not there Facing west are now large dormer windows which completely overlook our property, there were none before.....on a personal note, Mr Bobbe told me he never takes notice of planning, but does what he wants and argues afterwards which he says he has always done on his "many" developments in London

This house is now almost finished which seems to make a nonsense of planning, being obviously a new build, is there not a covenant against new builds in this area ? The EA have made it abundantly clear that this property, along with ours is on the lowest point of Climping Street which will be the first area to flood

I admit to being bewildered that Mr Bobbe has been allowed to ride roughshod over every balance and check designed to protect all of us.....it took a month to pull down a lovely old building which he claimed was falling down, this is clearly property speculation for financial reasons.

Sincerely, Lyn Lundie
