Hi Katie

Thank you for your reply.

I understand all your comments. We are currently talking through Solicitors with regards the access track so we have this in hand.

I would just like to point out to you that the previous use of the farm was very modest. It consisted of 40 cattle (cows). Trading standards can confirm this. The beef rearing unit you describe was undertaken as a hobby by the previous owners many many years ago.

I would also like to point out that the access road is not shared. We at Woodfield place own all the land up to the Woodfield Farm boundary. The applicants only have the right to pass and repass. They do not have any authority or say as to what happens or what is done on our land (access track). So reinforcing the track is not an option. May I also point out that the easment created for the applicants to cross the land is for agricultural use not military vehicles.

I thought it might be helpful for you to get a full picture before your visit.

We will await your visit.

Kind regards

Charlotte Shackleton
