Hi Chris,

Thanks for the update and to confirm we are good with the height of 80cm or so above our roof height.

Corin

Hello Corin, Jason and Eddie,

As you know, the garage roofing works have now started and the roof frame has begun to take shape.

Whilst last weekend you verbally agreed to the roof height going to 80+ cm above existing roof level at the highest point, if there's one thing I've learnt from this neighbourly dispute, it's to get all agreements in writing! The height is to allow some storage space - a small benefit.

Could you please respond to this email before tomorrow with any concerns with height - now is the time to make any adjustments before works go any further and extra costs incurred.

Please see below details:

- height at front of garage will be around 85cm above existing roof level, sloping downwards/ decreasing in height towards back of garage.

- the roof level towards back of garage (adjacent to your garden) will be marginally increased in height: The highest point around 25cm above existing height, sloping backwards.
