Dear Mr Milliner,

Thank you for your email.

The “comments by” date on the portal reflects that within the newspaper, and initial consultation of the statutory consultees.

I have organised for the applicant’s details to be looked at.

Kind regards,

Z Denton

Dear Mr Denton

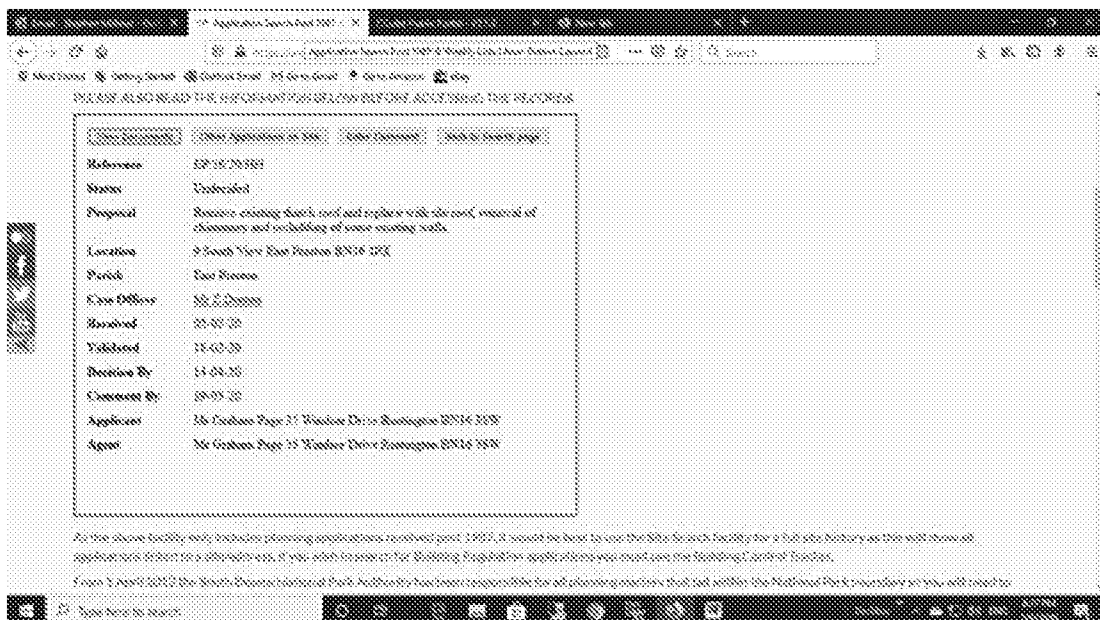

Just a very quick Email to advise you that the site notice at 9 South View has been installed today. The description does now reflect the proposed scope of work and the "comments by" date has been hand annotated to the 30th March 2020 which I believe is correct.

The planning portal "Comments by" date is still shown as the 19.03.20 and also the applicant's details are still incorrect on the planning portal (see below screen shot).

I trust the above is of assistance.

Yours sincerely

Stephen Milliner

Dear Mr Denton

Just a very quick Email to inform you that the statutory planning application site notice is still not installed at or near the property plus the information on the planning portal has not been updated.

I trust this keeps you informed.

Yours sincerely

Stephen Milliner

Dear Mr Milliner,

Thank you for your email, my apologies this has happened.

The date on the site notices will be changed to reflect the new advertisement date, before being posted.

Kind regards,

Z Denton

Dear Mr Denton

Just a very quick Email to inform you that the statutory planning application site notice has not yet been installed at or near to the property.

I am informed that this should be installed for a minimum period of 21 days to allow the general public to see there is an application submitted and so they may review and comment as they may deem appropriate.

I presume that this now means the consultation closure date of the 19.03.20 has to be shifted back?

I trust the above is of assistance.

Yours sincerely

Stephen Milliner
