Good morning Zac,

Thank-you for your email.

You may not be aware but our Client is desperate for the new electricity supply, which is required partly to power a new café that they are currently unable to power. Ferring Country Centre & Riding Therapy Unit is a charity for people with learning disabilities. As such it is critical that their new café is fully operational at the earliest opportunity so that it can start paying for itself.

Anything that you are able to do to speed up the process would be very much appreciated.

With thanks and kind regards,
