Dear Mrs Johnson

My client and I are shocked at receiving your email today asking whether we wish the fence to be included in the description! A cynic might think that your office is deliberately delaying registrations!

Please note that the proposed fence (I assume you mean the one on the north side of the plot) is under 2 metres tall. Consequently it is pd in its own right and does not need to feature in the formal description. My client could erect this today without going through any formal process.

Therefore, I would ask that the application is formally validated wef the date you received it.

Regards

Andy Bower MRTPI
