To whom it may concern

I would like to comment on the above planning application as follows:

The proposed building line of the new dwelling has moved nearer to the roadway. This will make the double storey building imposing on the rest of the road and not in keeping with other properties on the road which are set back from the road. We do not have a pavement area on the crescent so the current arrangement of the properties being set back from the road is both esthetically pleasing and pedestrians can step onto a grassed/garden area if required by moving traffic. By moving the proposed dwelling back to the position of the current dwelling would afford the new occupants additional privacy, it would give other residents additional privacy and be more esthetically pleasing and in keeping with the character of the crescent.
