Dear Mr Wood

Having previously raised an objection to this planning application, I went onto the planning website today to see what was happening and I see the date has been changed for the comments and is now June.

Please can you tell me why the date has been moved, I did think there might have been a change to the application, but I've had no email like the last time to say that there has been a change and I cannot see a change in the plans?

Please add my email to the comments on the application, and post your reply and also send me an email copy (for the purposes of transparency).

Yours sincerely
Lucy Turner
