Good morning Andrew,

I note the changes on the planning website in that new floor plans have been moved to the top. I also note the developer's email (also uploaded) says they have achieved 8 spaces in an underground car park yet the plans uploaded only show 7. Are there further revised plans still to come that match the email ?

Please could you also confirm that there are revised elevations to be submitted to take account of the underground car parking as well as the environment agency's stipulations on ground floor levels.

Many thanks,

Sally
