Subject: Quercus nursery

Morning Lisa,

Following on from our voice mail messages today, we where woken this morning at 3.06 am I have a photo time linked at 3.08 on my I pad not good quality and a video of the same leaving at 3.22 am.

It would be safe to assume the driver would have arrived at around 3.0 am to open the gates and drive in to unload it was so load i awoke with a jump.

On a sperate note Douglas Briggs partnership who act for Quercus nursery, state that in there clients defence the lorry driver arrived at 1.30 but dint unload, and it was a mistake. This simply not true once the driver arrives it has to park on site there is no where else it can unless it blocks the A 259.

Just to be clear once again the lorries arrive completely unsupervised, drive up to the gates they then enter a code to open the gates Park unload open the gates at the exit and drive off or unload and sleep on site in there cabs some times till 12 hours later, the lorry drivers can come and go with out any monatering by the company.

At the very least there should be NO unsupervised deliveries, enforce the times which is early enough even at 6.0am and object strongly to there 5.0 am proposal.

Regards J. Sacco
