I omitted to mention in my objection to the Tudor Close site being built upon that if modern accommodation replaces the pub, there will be nowhere for the RETIRED people of south Ferring to meet. There are many single people here and loneliness can be helped by having your own local. It is after all, a mainly retired village and the absence of the only pub in this area would be a great shame as human beings enjoy getting together and the Tudor Close belongs to us all. Not everyone drives or walks easily and for us in south Ferring the Tudor is an ideal place for a pub, walkable for most and very pleasant to have nearby for meals, themed nights and quizzes. Please don't let the proposal to build go ahead.
