Dear Mr Weeden,

The email was sent at your request to let you have my contact details, albeit that you would have had these sent to you when the application was allocated to me as case officer. I did say prior to sending it that it would be an email to do just that give you my email address. Hence there was no accompanying text. You were and are aware of the address and there was no need to therefore include this, although I did include the reference in an effort to be helpful.

I would add that I called as a matter of courtesy in order to discuss the position, rather than opting to simply refuse the application – which was an option open to me. You may recall my advising that it might be preferable to withdraw rather than establish a refusal for revisions which included some likely to be acceptable – again this was an effort to be helpful.

Thank you for confirming that the application is withdrawn in any event.

Regards,

Ross

There is no information on this E mail other than reference.

However I will reluctantly agree to withdraw this application for a non material amendment.

Cannot say I am very happy with a phone call on penultimate day and not having an opportunity to contact client to discuss this matter.

Regards
Allen Weeden
