

James Smith

From: David Yates [member@ [REDACTED]]

Sent: 23 November 2011 16:45

To: James Smith

Subject: FN/46/11

Application FN/46/11 No8 Nepcote, Findon. No change as regards the somewhat detached location used to display the planning application notice. No doubt an unintentional oversight which is a shame as the building deserves better than that. It represents an exemplary example of cortex flint stoneworking - probably the finest Edwardian one left in the parish. It is a form of vernacular estatearchitecture of particularly relevance from a South Downs National Planning perspective. Sincerely D. Yates.

06/12/2011