Dear Mr Raman Singla

Development:

There is a Cupressus macrocarpa tree with a TPO (TPO/FP/1/07) just outside our rear garden fence (Sketch attached). The tree branches have grown thick and long and have come quite low in our garden. There are quite few dead branches on the tree hanging above our garden and are a risk of falling. This could be dangerous for our kids while playing in the garden as some of the branches are hanging really low and also risk of falling dead branches.

The over-grown branches due to its density are also restricting Sun light to penetrate through the crown and causing a great amount of foliage. This is causing dampness in the garden along with damage to the grass turf.

I have also taken advise from a couple of local arborists (Greenbelt-treesurgery and CM Tree care). Recommendation from Greenbelt-Treesurgery as below (Also attached)

"Further to my inspection of your Macracarper tree at 7 Wellers Close, Felpham I would make the following recommendations.

Unfortunately, the tree has suffered from lack of care, previously having been in a farmer's field before becoming part of the new housing estate. No work has been done on the tree except with crown lifting when the boundary fence was put in.

To reduce the Macracarper: Reduce top and sides by 3 metres
 Remove deadwood
 Crown clean and thin by 20%

Based on the above grounds, we would request this work to be authorised.

Location:

7 Wellers Close FELPHAM
