Hi Simon,

Following our conversation I would just like to confirm there is a drainage expert in the Parish council and this was the reason there seemed to be a slight friction amongst the Parish council with regards to the drainage solution. The expert explained to everybody there would have to be a solution for the drainage and that the others could not refuse the application on this basis as there would be experts confirming this all worked and it could not be a guess.

I hope this helped.

Any questions at any stage please give me a call.

Kind regards,

James

Dear Pete,

I do not believe that the Parish Council have any drainage or utilities expertise but I also do not know the background of the individual councillors.

If you do not believe these to be planning issues or are otherwise covered by other responses then if you could at least put in a headed letter responding to each point/concern in turn then I will have something that I can go back to the Parish Council with.

Kind Regards
