Hi Simon

I cannot see a problem with the work (and timing of) they are proposing, although I am reluctant to give them any formal endorsement – that should probably come from someone who has an appreciation of any broader ecological sensitivities at the site?

Regards,

Mark

the curtilage of the land mid to late January in order to ensure that we miss any ecological seasons.

We will brief the clearance team on the sensitivity around the protected trees and provide relevant details, could you confirm this is acceptable in order for us to proceed?
