Dear Mr Crowther

re: Prunus at 2 Admiralty Gardens, Felpham.
Regarding our application for the lifting of a TPO on a prunus tree in our garden, I attach a plan of the location of the tree and confirm that my answer to question 8:1 is no. Since the application was received, the tree has split in half and a large section has fallen, thus weakening further the main trunk and causing damage to some of the branches. we are very concerned that the remains of the tree might split in high winds and cause damage to property or cause harm; we feel that it needs to be felled completely. I have spoken to Richard Martin and the Planning Department in the hope that the matter can be resolved quickly.

kind regards

Georgina Davies
