Good afternoon,

I live at 59 Minton Rd, adjacent to the above property. The above planning application was submitted without discussions with either of their neighbours, and we have since communicated with them via a couple of Zoom calls, which has been more practical, since it is their holiday house and with the COVID restrictions in place. They have made some changes to this application and I have seen that it has been sent to Amber Willard, but having spoken to a colleague of yours in the planning dept this morning she advised that I submit an objection on this one since it is so close to the time limit for objections and also send this email to state that I would like to also make an objection once the new plans are submitted- presumably there will be an extension to the time limit.

I have just spoken to Amber Willard, who has assured me that even if the new plans are not uploaded onto the website today, they will be in the first few days on return in Jan (4 or 5) and that she will accept objections up until about 11th Jan.

The recommendation was that this email would serve as a record of the earlier discussions and make it clear that although the amendments are helpful, they do not address the overall issues (in our view). The correction of the size of the gap between the properties is particularly intriguing since we have been stating that extending further into the gap would enable some further reduction in depth but they (the family) have been convinced that there was no space to do so.

We will keep our eyes open for the new application to be submitted and will comment once it is on the site.

If you see this before your Christmas break, I hope that you are able to enjoy what will inevitably be a rather odd one.

Best Regards

Simon Howell
