Dear Richard

FP/228/21/T REF: OWPC41764

I am pleased to show below the report and images that accompanied the comments submitted by Felpham Parish Council's Tree Warden, Jon Bray:

11A Outerwyke Avenue: To keep turkey oak in a managed state, (based on its location and proximity to residential dwellings), the requested reduction of 2m to all limbs appears to be reasonable. However, on closer inspection there appears to be honey fungus fruiting bodies (destructive fungus which spreads underground killing roots) at the base of the tree and in a large cavity on the main trunk. I'd suggest the property owner obtains an arboricultural survey and resubmits an application based on the findings. Removal of tree is probable.

Kind regards

Nicola Meaney
