I would hope the planning department have seen and taken great notice of our Prime Ministers speech regarding the building of new homes where he says quote "commitment to build and achieve the target of 1 million new homes on this parliament " " we won't do that by concreting over the countryside our plan is to build the right homes where there is most need and where there is local support, in the heart of our great cities ". There is NO local support for this development and concreting over this green space goes against the Prime Ministers commitment. This also goes against everything that is being reported regarding the damage we are already doing to our environment and climate. The UK is already the most bio-diverse country in Europe and this development only contributes to this depletion. ADC planning have a duty to protect our green spaces, surely ADC has already committed enough to the government's targets, ADC does not need to build all the homes required for the country !!!
