With ref to building a 3 bedroom detached house in the garden of 7 Ambleside close.

While visiting my mother at 3 Thirlmere way I was informed that a 3 bedroom detached house was seeking planning permission.

I strongly object to this as it would be totally out of place and not in keeping with the houses in and around the area. The space is far too small and would leave 7 Ambleside with little or no light and having a squashed feel. As for having a shared driveway this would cause concern for any occupants in the future, also the number of cars in Ambleside is already reaching dangerous levels especially at weekends.

I'm also concerned about the impact it will have on 3 Thirlmere being so close to the boundary it would be intrusive after enjoying open plan space for a number of years.

This is an open plan estate built in the sixties so the houses are not on top of each other and very much sort after.

There is concern for emergency vehicles trying to manoeuvre in Ambleside and any large vehicles delivering an accident waiting to happen S L Hicks
