Hi Matthew,

These plans are looking good; however, there's still one issue. The proposed extension on the dwelling (on the block plan) needs to be of either different colour or hatching compared to the rest of the existing dwelling, this is so the extension on the block plan can be easily identified and allows us to measure the dimensions to ensure consistency across the plans.

If you have any further questions, feel free to emails me.

Thanks,

Ella Summerfield.

Good morning,

Thank you for your email.

I can confirm that we are happy to proceed with the amended description.

The Biodiversity Enhancement Statement was uploaded with the application, however I have attached a further copy for ease of reference.

Regarding the Location and Block Plan, the Location Plan has been produced using the relevant OS data. The Block Plan shows the proposed roof plan, including the extensions, together with the distances to the site boundaries as required. I have also added dashed lines to indicate the extent of the existing roof line. If this is still not acceptable, could you please clarify what additional information you would like to see included?

With regard to the hatching, I have hatched the proposed new walls on the floor plans and shown only the proposed elements hatched on the elevations. If this is not what you require, I would be grateful if you could clarify exactly what it is you would like to see.

Kind regards,

Matthew
