I fully support the building of affordable homes by Boklok.
Most new builds are far too expensive for a single person or even a couple. There is not enough affordable homes being built and even when they are built they get brought instantly and rented out. Can there please be something done to ensure these homes go to those that need them and not just added to a Landlords portfolio. I intend to make one of the apartments my first home as I have been struggling to save enough for a deposit for the past 5 years. I am one the the 45 workers who were made redundant from the Advanced Energy (formerly Hi-Tek Power) just over 2 years ago 3 days before Christmas. I have managed to send myself to college and pulled myself back up to a position where I am able to buy my first home. I am 30 years old and have lived in Littlehampton all my life.
