Thanks Michael, this all sounds fine but it doesn't really answer the question as to why they cant put at least 1 EVC charging point which is active in the car park of block A. However I don't want to waste anyone's time so as they are confirming that all other spaces will be supplied with passive ducting this is accepted by WSCC.

Kind regards,
Alison

Hi Michael

The plan annotates that all remaining units will have passive ducting for future EV charge points connections. Is not sufficient?

EV Charge Points

19 no. 'Active' allocated EV Charge points for 100% of ALL units with a driveway and (or) a garage.

9 spaces for 20% of ALL 'on street'
and layby parking plus 7 spaces for Apartment Blocks based on 20% of overall number of apartment units
- totalling 16 units (not required = 3.6 spaces)

Total 'Active' allocated on site = 35

Please Note: ALL remaining units on this site will require 'Passive' ducting for future
EV charge point connections.

Hi – my only question on this is that the remaining spaces are meant to be provided in a passive capacity for connection at a later date. If there is not enough space now that would suggest it will not be possible in the future to connect wthese spaces which would not be in line with our evc policy.

Hi Michael

We've incorporated EV charging points in the rear courtyard for Block B but there isn't any room to accommodate EV charging points in the parking area for Block A.

Overall, we are providing 35 'active' charge points on site (19 on plot; 9 on street/ layby and 7 to the apartment blocks).

I trust the above is acceptable.

Kind regards

Aimee

Hi,

I was just wondering why there are no EVC spaces in apartment block A ? Is there a reason? It seems odd to have then all in the other block. Without knowing more information I would suggest all houses with their own driveways have an EVC point and if the flats are required to have 20% which equates to 4, I would have 2 in one and 1 in the other, or 1 in block A if there are less flats and 3 in the other block. This would be my suggestion as otherwise block a have nothing.

Before I respond formally can you confirm.

Thanks
Alison
