Hi Jasmine

Apologies for the delay in my response to your email.

Please find attached a document which I trust addresses your query over the proposed parking arrangements.

In respect to your concern over the loss of the fireplace / chimney breast in the bathroom, I have discussed this with our clients, and confirm they are happy that it is retained. The existing fireplace is a later addition(please see attached image). The proposal is now to simply remove this more recently added fireplace at ground floor to bring it back to the original form, as shown in a picture in the attached document, and the larder to be built around it and retain the structure above.

We are confident that this would be acceptable to the Conservation Officer from past consultation as there would be no loss of the original building fabric.

Please advise if the additional information regarding parking arrangements and suggested amends are acceptable and I will arrange for updated plans to be submitted to reflect these changes.

Kind regards

Emma

Hi Emma,

I contacted your office earlier. I just needed clarification on the following point:

Why is there loss of the fireplace/chimney breast at the first floor level in the existing bathroom. It is not clear why this has to be removed, and ideally it would be retained?

Also if you could confirm about the parking facilities on site ?

I look forward to hear from you.

Regards
Jasmine

Good afternoon Jasmine

I see that you are the Case Officer working on the 2 planning applications noted above.

There are several items relating to the roof strengthening work that we were unable to upload to the portal at the time of the submission.

These were the Roof Strengthening works before and after photos that were agreed with Martyn White (LBO) to be submitted in this applications. I attach these now to be uploaded to the applications.

We were also awaiting the Roof Strengthening specific Resin work details which I now attach and ask that they form part of the application. We attach method statements and before photos which highlights the need for such work.

All the works were discussed in much detail with Martyn and he was in agreement that the works needed to be carried out should be included in the planning and listed building applications to gain formal approval.

I trust this is satisfactory but should you have any queries, please do contact me.

Kind regards

Emma
