Dear Mr Denton

At the weekend we took the opportunity to re-assess the new proposed extension wall height of 2.8 metres and 4 metres in length.
The vision of this huge wall in a tiny space is daunting, being that it would be only inches away from the rear window to our one and only living area and only 1 metre away from our back door into the kitchen.

The proposed extension if built this close to our home would be detrimental to our well-being.

Regards
