Although The Littlehampton Society does not object to the proposed new buildings (subject to the comments below), we are very concerned that the heritage of the existing building should be carefully considered and make the following comments :

1. The existing building dates to the early/mid 19th Century and, although altered over the decades, it still retains its form and appearance as a riverside warehouse. It is the last intact building of its type remaining on the east side of the river and its rarity value is acknowledged in the Littlehampton Historic Character Report 2009. It is a visual reminder of the river-related activities that helped fuel the economic development of the town in the 19th Century. As such, its heritage significance lies in its form, appearance, construction, materials and original use, further enhanced because of its rarity value. The building also makes a strongly positive contribution to the character and appearance of the River Road Conservation Area and is included in the Council's list of buildings of character.

2. Given the high local heritage value of the building and its need to be considered as a non-designated heritage asset, every attempt should be made to retain it without substantial removal of historic fabric. The condition report submitted with the application does not indicate that the building is in poor structural or dangerous condition and the issue surrounds the viability of finding uses for the building given the costs of repair. In coming to a view that the substantial demolition of the building should be permitted, the Council needs to be fully satisfied that there is no viable appropriate use for the building, including residential conversion, and that there is no possibility of an historic building preservation trust taking on the repair works and finding an appropriate use.

3. If the Council is minded to grant permission, the proposed new buildings should make a positive contribution to the character and appearance of the Conservation Area. High quality materials and finishes should be specified. More details are needed of the glazed link between the buildings containing the access stairways since, as shown currently on the plans, it appears rather discordant in form and massing with those of the other structures.

4. If the Council is minded to grant planning permission, it is recommended that inclusion of the following conditions should be considered:

- a. the submission of precise details of materials and finishes for the walls and roofs of the building and of hard landscaping.
- b. given its rarity value, a requirement that the building is properly recorded prior to its substantial demolition and the records deposited with Littlehampton Museum.
- c. the submission of a method statement indicating how the retained front elevation will be protected during construction works and how its long term stability will be ensured.

Your views as made above will be considered before the application is determined.
