They fail to say that several people have contacted kings estate regarding the property several times but they are very obstructive to helping anyone. I know this due to myself trying to get information/ talk to someone about it, and myself being told three times someone will contact you and then a fourth time saying someone has gone for the property and if anything changed I would know! and another candidate who tried several times to talk to king estate and went to auction when with fluid due to her interest in the premises. The picture attached to the statement of the kings estate sign has only recently gone up (probably for photo purposes).
