LU/304/18/HH

The application is retrospective consent for a large area of trellis above an existing line of fence panels. The level of information provided as a part of the application is such that it is not possible to identify the exact location from them.

However, I have spoken to the case officer who has provided evidence as to the exact location. This has been confirmed by a visit to the area. The trellis panels are not significantly visible from the public domain, and are not considered to affect the character of the conservation area.
