Thank you for your reply late in the day, since my last message I have discussed this concern with the neighbours and they are willing to also discuss that they have no concerns but appreciate your comments. The room is double aspect and is already set back from there own property.

Anything you can do will be much appreciated .

Thank you

Morning, hope your well,

I have read your comments and appreciate the opportunity to discuss any further options regarding this concern. Would it be possible for you to show/suggest to me on site how we can make this work please so we comply? From our previous meeting I'm aware you are very busy but be happy to fit around your schedule.

We are desperate to have this extra room with a new arrival expected in September so am very eager to be advised and to complete as quick as possible with your help.

Really appreciate the opportunity to amend and hope to speak to you soon.

My architect is on holiday till next month and he is happy for us speaking directly as we have already met once.

Regards

Dear Mr Harrison

Apologies for the delay in coming back to you which was due to unforeseen issues.

I am looking at the above application and have one concern which I feel is only reasonable to allow you consider rather than refuse with no discussion.

The neighbouring property No.3 has what appears to be a bedroom window in rear elevation set back behind the rear building line of No.1. My concern is the impact of the two storey extension on the this habitable room. To assess such matters the Council usually take a 45 degree line off the centre point of the nearest window. In this case this line is breached and I feel that the two storey extension will have an adverse impact upon this window and the amenity of the adjoining occupiers.

I would welcome your comments on this issue or if possible if the scheme can be amended to address this issue, I appreciate you will need to speak to your client on this matter. I can agree an extension of time to determine the application and suggest we can discuss this if the scheme is to be amended or we can agree an extension of time until 4 May to allow you to consider this. If resolved before this date we would obviously determine sooner

I look forward to hearing from you.

Regards

Mark Jones
