I would like to object very strongly to this planning application being approved.

The Littlehampton seafront to the east of the East Beach Cafe is already crowded with beach huts, which, apart from a number of generally narrow gaps, block the view of the sea from the promenade. This detracts from the seaside experience, which most visitors come for and for which many residents have moved here. Any additional huts to the west would negatively impact the East Beach Cafe's attractiveness to customers and spoil a busy stretch of the promenade for walkers.

Could any more huts be added to the east (beyond the new kite surfers centre) instead?

I write as a concerned resident and great cheerleader for Littlehampton's tourist industry.

Best regards,
