Morning Karen,

Thank you for your email.

I have been away for a week and a half, and I am playing catch up with my emails.

Remind me, is the flood risk assessment the only remaining item required for validation of this application, or is there something else (following our conversation around two weeks ago)?

I look forward to hearing from you.

Afternoon Karen,

Thank you for your email/letter regarding the additional information required to validate the above application for the former coastguard tower. I have tried your landline, however it has been engaged every time I try.

To respond to your points raised, in the order of your letter:

- The location plan at scale 1:1250 with the site outlined in red – this was provided on drawing 0040-PA-100. There are no parking spaces or vehicular access to the site proposed. These are the exact same drawings that have been approved previously. Our client advises that he owns the freehold, therefore I completed certificate A on the ownership section of the application form. Please advise whether this needs amending.
- A block plan at scale 1:500 was provided on drawing 0040-PA-001
- We are happy for you to amend the application description provided that it does not discriminate against the principle of renewing an identical scheme that has already been recently approved. The application to 'renew' the two approvals was as per the recommendation from Tavis Russell and Juan Beaza; which I have copied below for your reference.
- The Giant Bucket and Spade is the bin and bike storage, that forms a part of the approval for application LU/247/10 and is condition 4 – please advise if there is a change in policy relating to the provision of bin and bike storage for this application

- I have checked through previous applications, and there were no flood risk assessments submitted previously. I also understand that there have been sea defences installed since the previous approval. Can you advise whether a cover letter to confirm that there is no sleeping accommodation on the ground floor of the proposals, and that the proposals will not create an increased risk of flooding elsewhere?
- I will provide a biodiversity checklist (at the same time as all other information – if necessary)

I trust that the above makes sense, however please feel free to email/call to discuss the above.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Subject: The Old Coastguard Tower, Littlehampton

Dear Paul,

Further to my recent email communication we have now received an email response from our planning department in relation to The Old Coastguard Tower in Littlehampton, which is copied below.

Unfortunately, as you will see, our planning department have confirmed that the planning approvals LU/453/07 (change of use) and LU/247/10 (proposed extension and alterations) are considered as lapsed. As previously identified in my recent emails; Arun District Council would only be in a position to grant another licence to erect scaffold and work off our land if the necessary planning consent is current.

As per the email below, we would recommend that the proposed change of use and alterations work is re-submitted together as a new application.

Should you require clarification please do not hesitate to contact me.

Kind regards,

Tavis

I don't think this constitutes implementation of permission but rather internal stripping out works which do not normally require permission and are not part of the works approved by LU/247/10. This granted permission for an extension to the north elevation of the existing tower to incorporate a stairwell; solar panels within the south, east and west roof slopes; a wind turbine on the roof and a bin and bike store which would have the appearance of a bucket and spade.

It is also worth remembering that permission LU/453/07 has also lapsed as the change of use approved has not been implemented.

My advice would be to resubmit as one application to renew the change of use approved by LU/453/07 and the works described and approved under LU/247/10.
