With reference to The Brewhouse Project – developing the Crossbush Farmshop on the outskirts Arundel / Crossbush.

I've been a resident of Arundel since 2003 (present address is Flintwood House, Burpham, Arundel BN18 9RR) and have seen various ventures attempt to make a success of the Crossbush Farmshop. As it is a fairly prominent building on the A27 it would certainly be good if the building was being used and kept in good condition. Given Arundel Brewery's success in building up a superb business in the Arundel area, which includes employing numerous staff and bringing in a good amount of money to the local economy, I would strongly support this application. I have no doubt that they will improve the site, employ even more people and further promote the local economy. Indeed, their proposal of making the site available for the local community is part of the strength of this application. As a fellow small business owner, I do think Arun District Council should do all they can to help local businesses grow and fulfil their potential.
