Hi Ross,

Thanks for that, yeah I don't think this tree is going to be suitable for a TPO (going from the site pictures, location, etc.).

Kind regards

Good morning Dafydd,

In respect of the above, the applicant has confirmed that they would be prepared to plant a replacement in a location to be agreed and of a species/maturity to also be agreed.

Whilst it is quite a good specimen tree, I don't have any strong feelings about retention, subject to replacement. The lady householder has the owner's permission for felling and replacement. This is another where the tree impact on light is the issue.

The dwelling is just north of the 'A' below and there is a FP through the land. Plenty of room for replacement. Hope this assists.
