Subject: RE: LY/4/20/PL Barn at Broomhurst Farm, Lyminster

Dear Anita

Further to our telephone conversation last week. Please find attached a photo of the site (on the left of the existing barn in the picture).

The site is currently used to graze sheep and no protected species are known to be on the site. I would be grateful if you could forward this information to the ecologist. We do not see any reason why an ecology survey should be required particularly as the land could be ploughed at any time. This information was not required during the last application in 2017 so seems unfair.

I have spoken to our client and he is agreeable to planting native species to the south of the barn. Can this be treated as a planning condition?

The barn is required this harvest at the end of July so can a decision on this be made as soon as possible please. We agree to an extension of time if required.

Kind Regards

Dear Mr Folkes,

The above application will need to be determined by Development Control Committee if recommended for approval. The next available provisional meeting date is 03-06-2020. I would therefore appreciate your agreement to an extension of time on the application until 05-06-2020 to cover this period.

I have also just seen the response from our Ecology Officer which states

" Unfortunately the Ecology Partnership Letter (24.03.2020) which has been submitted with the application only looks at the impact of proposed works on surrounding protected sites and does not make any reference to protected species which may be present on site and the impact the works would have on those species. Prior to determination we require that an extended phase one habitat survey is undertaken on the site to determine if there is potential for protected species. If there is potential for protected species then further surveys would be required. These surveys plus any mitigation strategies required will need to be submitted as part of the planning application prior to determination."

Please can you advise whether it will be possible to provide this additional survey within the next 2 weeks? I apologise that this wasn't brought to your attention sooner.

Regards

Anita Gardner
