Dear Andrew

Re: 2008 Contract Winemaking

To confirm our recent telephone conversation

In October we received from you the following fruit:

Reichensteiner	80kg
Schonburger	86kg
S. Blanc	15kg

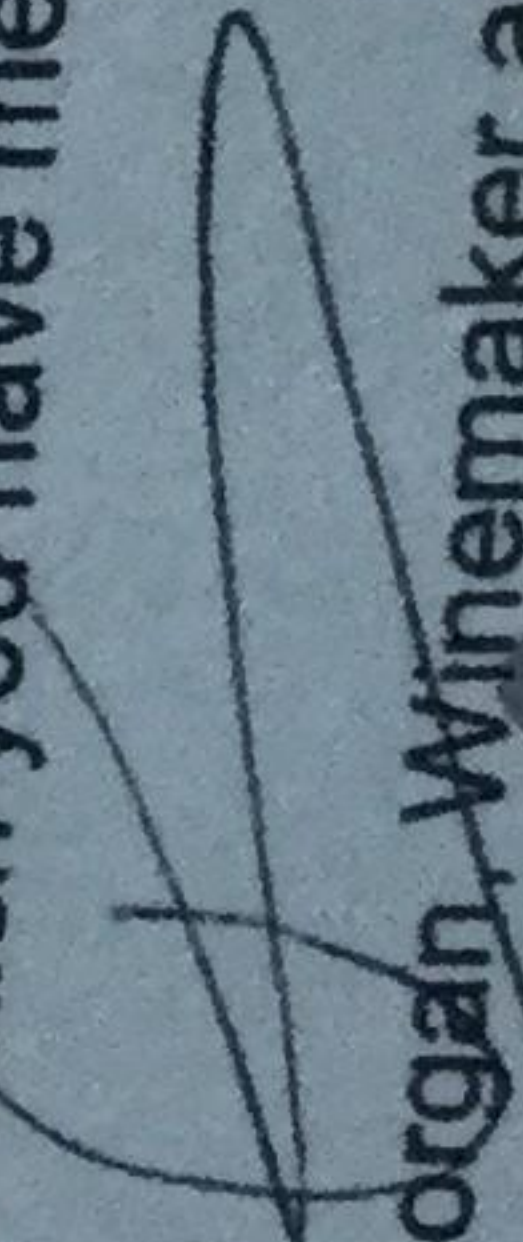

These have been fermented and will make ca. 85L dry white wine, equivalent to ca. 110 bottles maximum, for which you will pay £2.50 per bottle plus VAT.
This wine will be ready from May 2009.

Pinot noir	162kg
Triomphe	20kg

These have been fermented and will make ca. 85L blush sparkling wine, eq. to ca. 110 bottles maximum, for which you will pay £4.50 per bottle plus VAT
This wine will be ready from November 2010.

You have also confirmed that you use your wine exclusively for domestic consumption, and do not sell it. If, in future years, you wish to sell it you must inform us before we despatch it to you so that we can arrange duty payment and invoice you accordingly – a payment we must receive before we ship the wine to you.

In the meantime, we look forward to delivering your 150 bottles of 2006 Blush sparkling, the charges for which you have met by allowing Plumpton College to keep a proportion of the wine.

Yours sincerely, Peter Morgan, Winemaker and Lecturer
