Dear Tony,

Thank you for your email.

This application is still invalid as the location plan requires a solid red outline around the site boundary and the dimensions are still missing from the block plan. Please review and amend.

Kind Regards
Iqraa Malik

Further to your email, please find attached the location plan edged red as requested.

I confirm the change of description as requested.

The other elevation has already been submitted and is shown below the proposed ground floor plan.

The dimensions to the boundaries were shown on the proposed ground floor plan submitted but I have also indicated these on the block plan for clarity.

Kind regards

Tony
