Dear Ms Welch

I have resubmitted a comment today because I cannot see any comments on this application on your portal since Mr Cutts sent his response letter at the time of the original application withdrawal. I must say that even though I have used the portal for our own previous planning application we find it quite a difficult site to navigate.

I wanted to ensure an objection was lodged. Again, there is no issue with the Cutts having a loft extension. The issue is the way that their proposals will change the nature of the entire development round here. Making comparisons to other estates of non-standard construction properties is not relevant – this is a semi detached home and no other houses have been built like this on the entire estate. All 2-storey properties are bungalows with roofspace second floors.

We hope that the planning department can reject this and find a way to encourage a loft conversion that accommodates the Cutts' needs.

Many thanks
Linda Edmondson
