Sirs/Mesdames

It has come to my attention that a number of objections have been received, to planning application M/56?17/HH.... Mr G.Cox, 8 Beaconsfield Close.

It is of concern, if the planning system can be weighted adversely, when subjective objections are promoted in this area or indeed any other.

This would be totally unfair and not reflective of the justice and equality expected of modern planning laws.

It seems illogical, that in 2015 I obtained planning permission to extend a 2 bed bungalow in Southdean Drive, 8 mtrs by 4 mtrs with pitched roof, far larger than the proposed extension at No 8.

In Southdean Drive, enlightened neighbours raised no objections whatsoever.

Could the current situation at Beaconsfield Close be age-related discrimination? I cannot see any other explanation to account for the anomaly in neighbour responses. This is appalling and should be recognised for what it is.

In my experience (I have made numerous planning applications in my lifetime, even winning an appeal in Bognor) I have never heard of mob-objections.

It would seem to me, that Mr Cox has tried to appease his neighbours and be adaptable and I would hope that the Parish Council would consider their response from his point of view.

Of course, if planning permission is refused and the bungalow comes on the market, I might purchase it and put in my own planning application.

Yours faithfully

Mrs P.A.Cox
