Dear Arun

Further to our previous comments in respect of M/91/25/HH we have today forwarded a further comment concerning the planning application description which we consider to be misleading. The application refers to extensions to the existing property, whereas the supplementary drawings submitted by the applicants clearly show that there will be very little if any retained of the original property. Accordingly the application description should be reworded to make it clear that the application involves the demolition of the original property and its replacement with that now being proposed.

Please confirm how you propose to proceed with this issue.

Kind regards
