Dear Simon,

Please find attached copy of the updated site layout to follow the surface materials extents. For consistency Bargate have also updated the supporting layouts.

The changes are small and relate to a rumble strip of 3 rows of granite setts introduced adjacent plot 5 to indicate transition between tarmac and block paving road surface.
All rumble strips have been reduced to 3 rows of granite setts.

* The earlier versions of these documents were submitted as part of a package of material sent on 14th February 2025 in support of the Table outlining Bargate's responses to various consultees comments on P/114/24/RES. (The information was sent via a link in the email. The link expired before all of the plans could be downloaded and a new link was sent on 19th February)

With a design freeze in place Bargate have confirmed that these are the final documents. As such I would not anticipate any further changes needing to be made to the plans.

Bargate have confirmed to me today that they are on track for submitting the remaining material by 7th March and there is a possibility that some may be able to be supplied a few days earlier. Bargate's modus operandi is to make sure that the schemes they get planning permission for are the ones they will ultimately build. This means that they take slightly more time to ensure that their proposals are right, but does also mean they can build out quickly once permission is secured.

I would be grateful for acknowledgement of receipt.

Kind regards
