I think Sefters Field is not a suitable place for a development. The field is constantly underwater throughout the winter and whilst i am sure the building contractors will have put drainage in, where is all this water going? I believe into the Rife that also floods areas in its path regularly. I am more horrified by the amount of additional traffic this development will bring to an area that is constantly gridlocked. The Pagham to Chichester road currently queues for miles during rush hour, a 10 minute journey often taking 45 minutes. That is without any additional traffic associated with this development, and the prospect of two other developments planned for Pagham. The road is regularly damaged and pot holed by the large lorries that visit Barfoots and other market gardeners, bicycles cause a regular drama as they are impassible and the road regularly is the scene of accidents and cars leaving the road. The thought of 1000's of more cars on this road is unimaginable and ridiculous. And then the road to Bognor and Bersted also queues for miles every rush hour. On top of this doctors surgeries are impossible to get appointments at so additional residents will only increase this drama. I just don't think the site of this, or any, developments in the Pagham/Rose Green is right.
