Good afternoon Simon,

I understand that you have just spoken with Phil Farminer following your email below and I note that you will need to speak with your Team Leader next week.

Whilst there is currently a clear and open dialogue with the drainage engineer we respectfully request that you hold off issuing a refusal notice until the remaining comments have been closed out.

It is very frustrating that we have made the resubmission of the revised information on the 5th of June and it has taken until yesterday to receive updated comments, and to now be informed that this condition application will immediately be refused a day after receipt of the comments.

Many of the comments have been agreed and closed out and we are now working through the remaining comments with a view to resubmit the revised information in the near future.

Regards

Peter Drury
Technical Manager

Dear Peter,

Please see further advice (below)
from our Drainage Engineer received yesterday. I am afraid that we are going to refuse the outstanding drainage conditions and I have put through the recommendations to my Team Leader. You will need to make a revised submission.

Kind Regards
